RECORD PEACE BUDGET ASKED

Pauley Admits Speculations; Right To U.S. Job Challenged

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12—(AP)—Harold E. Stassen challenged Edwin W. Pauley's right to his job as assistant to the secretary of the army today after Pauley told of making $932,703 in commodity speculations.

Stassen, candidate for the GOP presidential nomination, called on President Truman to say whether "a man who has admitted under investigation" such profits "by speculating since the war in increased prices of food and commodities" belongs in his position.

Accused Stassen

Pauley made known his profits in a telegram last night to Stassen, whose charges of market profiteering by government "insiders" touched off a congressional investigation of commodity dealings by public employes. Pauley accused the former Minnesota governor of making "false statements."

Attention of investigating senators was drawn today to commodity trading by Senator Elmer Thomas (D-Okla) who was reported to have offered his books to them. An official of the committee said that Senator Ferguson (R-Mich), chairman of the subcommittee conducting the inquiry, accepted Thomas' offer.

New Attack

Stassen issued his new attack on Pauley in a statement through his Washington office, dictated by telephone from Sheridan, Wyo. He said:

"Now that Mr. Pauley has admitted the extensive nature of his operations, I respectfully ask this question of the president. I ask it in particular view of the urgent need of leveling off food prices and of the anticipated heavy governmental purchases of food in 1948.

State's Question

"The question is this:

"Does a man who has admitted under investigation that he made approximately a million dollars ($932,703 to be exact) in personal

State Accuses 3 Of Price-Fixing In El Paso Area

AUSTIN, Tex., Jan. 12—(AP)—A suit charging three wholesale milk distributors in the El Paso area with violation of state anti-trust laws was filed today by the attorney general in 98th district court.

The suit—fifth in less than a week alleging anti-trust violations—charged that the Borden Company, Price's Creameries, Inc., and Hawkin's Dairy, all of El Paso, have since the lifting of OPA controls July 1, 1946, operated under an agreement or understanding to fix and maintain the price on purchase of raw milk from producers.

It further alleges that the dairies named have fixed and maintained a uniform price on sales of pasteurized and other milk products, eliminating competition and creating a trust in restraint of trade.

Follows Probe

The suit followed more than six months of continuous investigation and courts of inquiry by the state under direction of Attorney General Price Daniel. Signing the petition was Assistant Attorney General J. A. Amis. The attorney general was joined in the suit by Ernest Guinn, El Paso county attorney.

The suit alleges that since July 1, 1946, the three corporations named have controlled 90 per cent

Jews Will Ask UN To Set Up Police Unit In Palestine

LAKE SUCCESS, Jan. 12—(AP)—The Jewish agency for Palestine announced today that it would ask the United Nations formally to establish an international military force to enforce partitioning of the Holy Land.

The agency also disclosed it would ask the U. N. to assist in arming and financing a Jewish militia of from 15,000 to 25,000 men immediately.

These disclosures were made by Moshe Shertok, head of the Jewish agency's political department and newly named representative of the agency to deal with the five-member U. N. partition commission.

Accuses British

The Zionist leader also:

1. Charged Britain with siding with Arabs trying to "sabotage" the plan to establish independent Arab and Jewish countries in Palestine by next Oct. 1.

2. Insisted that the commission should go to Palestine as soon as possible, despite British objections, to start laying the groundwork for the two new countries.

3. Declared the commission should act at once to see that Britain made available by Feb. 1 a major port, possibly Tel Aviv, to permit immediate large-scale Jewish immigration to begin, as provided by the partition plan.

Commission to Act

The five-nation Palestine commission goes to work tomorrow in an effort to work out plans for enforcing the general assembly's Nov. 29 decision to split the Holy Land into Jewish and Arab nations. The first major question is when the commission will go into Palestine, where Arabs bitterly oppose the partition scheme.

The Jewish agency wants the commission to leave for Palestine at once and get started on opening up immigration and establishing provisional governments. The British insist it should remain outside until British rule ends. Declaring she is ready to give up the mandate May 15 or perhaps earlier Britain spurns any move toward dual U. N.-British control.

Governor Spends Birthday Here With His Mother

The chief executive, who is 55 today, arrived home Sunday night and plans to return to the capital city soon after lunch.

His mother supervised the preparation of his favorite dish, chicken pie, for lunch Monday.

The governor was not accompanied home by Mrs. Jester and Beauford, Jr., since the lad is in public school in Austin.

Governor Jester was born in Corsicana, Jan. 12, 1893.

NEW LEGAL ACTION IS FILED TO HALT LIMITS EXTENSION

ZION'S REST SEEKING TO HAVE ORDINANCE DECLARED INVALID

Two new legal moves in the effort by property owners west and north of Corsicana to stop the expansion of the city limits as recently voted by the city commission had been made Monday morning.

A new suit, in behalf of the North Corsicana and Zion's Rest area, styled A. Hayes Bonner, et al., vs. City of Corsicana, et al, to declare ordinance invalid and injunction, was filed by the firm of Tyson, Dawson and Dawson Monday morning. The suit was originally slated to be filed last week.

Previous Suit.

Doyle Pevehouse counsel in the previous suit for the west and the northwest objecting property owners, Saturday filed a first amended petition in the pending suit styled Charles Willmann, et al., vs. City of Corsicana. This suit is set down for hearing Jan. 15 before A. P. Mays, judge of the Thirteenth Judicial District court.

Julius C. Jacobs, city attorney, is representing the municipality in both instances without benefit of additional counsel.

Plaintiffs in the Bonner case are Bonner, D. Oakley Love, Fred Ware, D. W. Hutson, H. Travis, John Remonte and Franklin Nichols.

Ordinance Attacked.

The Bonner petition attacks the "pretended" ordinance passed December 16, 1947, including North Corsicana and Zion's Rest and considerable unimproved lands, and again was passed, Dec. 26, 1946; it referred to protests lodged and disregarded; claims the ordinance is contrary to the charter of the City of Corsicana, the general laws of Texas for extending city limits; stresses the absence of allowing elections outside or inside the old city boundaries, etc. The petition alleged the ordinance violates both the state and federal constitutions.

Both suits against the city stress the levying tax for the city against the property in question.

Amended Petition.

In the amended petition in the Willman case, Pevehouse pleads

Court Voids 1,750 Divorces Granted In Little Rock

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Jan. 12.—(AP)—The Arkansas supreme court today invalidated an estimated 1,750 divorces granted here in the past 11 months by holding unconstitutional a 1947 legislative act creating a second division of Pulaski (Little Rock) chancery court.

The scupreme court declared that creation of the court by the legislature not only was unconstitutional but that the actions of the court and the second division chancellor—Mrs. Ruth Hale—who was placed on the benchb by the legislative act did not have the (de facto) standing of accomplished fact.

Many Affected.

Chancery officials estimated that at least 1,750 divorce petitions have been granted since the law became effective last Feb. 8. Many of them were filed under the 90-day Arkansas divorce law by per-

Means To Control Wholesale Price Of Meat Sought

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12—(AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Anderson today asked congress for stand-by authority to control wholesade meat prices, but expressed the opinion there will be no need for retail price ceilings on meat.

The secretary told the senate banking committee "we do need and we may have to use select price controls" on meat, and added:

"If we have meat price control at wholesale, that probably would be sufficient."

He did not make it clear whether he favors ceilings on live cattle, such as were in effect under OPA, or whether he felt controls should be applied only to meat sold by packers.

Possibly by Spring

Chairman Tobey (R-NH) said in advance of the committee meeting that it "may be necessary to do some unorthodox things" and mentioned the possibility of rationing next spring.

Anderson, in advocating wholesale ceilings, was testifying in support of an administration bill sponsored by Senator Barkley (D-Ky). In line with one of the sections of President Truman's 10-point anti-inflation program, this measure provides for hold-in-reserve authority to impose price and wage controls on a selective basis.

Under the Barkley bill, price controls would be applied first at wholesale. Retail ceilings would be imposed only if wholesale controls failed to do the job.

Anti-Inflation

Tobey said the senate hearings will cover most of the controls requested by President Truman in his 10-point anti-inflation program submitted to the recent special session, as well as other cost of living proposals.

Pending bills include:

One by Senator Barkley (D-Ky) to allow President Truman the standby authority to impose wage and price controls.

Another by Senator Taylor (D-Idaho) to restore price controls and rationing if a "director of price

Cold Wave Sweeps State; Will Hit Coast Tomorrow

By The Associated Press

Old man weather ended Texas' shirtsleeve weather of the past 10 days with a two-front attack today.

Striking around midnight, the first front sent temperatures below freezing in the Panhandle and was expected to penetrate past the Dallas area this afternoon. Coastal areas will feel the chilling blast tomorrow.

A secondary front was expected to send temperatures down to 20 to 29 degrees in the Panhandle and South Plains tonight. Twenty-six to 32 degrees was forecast for the extreme north portion of East Texas.

Today's early morning minimums ranged from 26 at Amarillo to 65 at Brownsville. Yestehday's maximum was 80 at Brownsville, the warmest spot in the nation.

Light showers fell in the Galveston and Beaumont areas.

A cold wave, whipped along by winds upwards of 25 miles an hour, was bearing down on the north central states tgain today, threatening to bring zero temperatures as far south as northern Iowa and northern Nebraska by tomorrow morning.

The only subzero spots on today's weather map were in Pembina, N. D., which had -7, and in New England where Concord, N. H., reported -11, Lebanon, N. H., -17 and Holton, Maine, -16.

Elsewhere temperatures were at or near seasonal normals, with Brownsville, Texas, reporting the nation's high yesterday at 80 degrees.

AID PLAN IS WORTH BURDENS IT'LL COST CABINET MEN SAY

MARSHALL, HARRIMAN CITE BENEFITS OF RECOVERY PROGRAM

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—(AP)—Two cabinet officers — Secretaries Marshall and Harriman—told congress today the proposed multi-billion dollar European aid program will put burdens on the American people, but said the gains will be worth the cost.

Marshall testified before the house foreign affairs committee. He spoke only in general terms of "burdens" from helping Europe. But Secretary of Commerce Harriman, talking to the senate foreign relations committee, named high prices here at home as one of them.

"We must frankly face the fact," Harriman said, "that the European recovery program will add to our difficulties in trying to control inflation. x x x

Will Be Costly.

"A program of the contemplated magnitude will be costly and will mean sacrifice by the American people. The benefits to be gained, however, far outweight the immediate sacrifices."

Secretary of State Marshall similarly said America's "most fundamental interests" argued for the program.

"Europe must be restored if a durable peace is to be attained. The United States has expended vast resources in the quest for peace. If by the expenditure of an additional amount, small in proportion to the investment already made, we can finish the job, certainly we should do so in our own interest as well as that of the world at large."

China Aid Planned.

Under questioning, Marshall told the house members that plans for helping China will be brought before congress "very shortly."

"European recovery is the first order of importance," he said, "and should not be complicated now by introducing discussions of other parts of the world."

Lewis Douglas, U. S. Ambassador to Great Britain, also was a witness before the senate committee. He said this country should be "prudent" in the exercise of any influence to change Western Europe's political and economic customs.

Douglas said that the countries had already taken long steps towards "economic integration." He predicted they will take further steps if adequate aid is forthcoming from the U. S. But he said any "initiative" in this direction should

Marine Boss Says His Troops Won't Go To Palestine

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 12—(AP)—The commandant of the U. S. Marine Corps labeled as "untrue" a report that Leathernecks would be sent to protect the American consulate in Palestine.

Gen. Clifton B. Cates, in an interview yesterday before a rally opening Marine Corps reserve week here, said the Palestine situation is "none of our official business."

Cates and Fleet Admiral William F. Halsey, Jr., were among the top-ranking officers attending the rally.

General Cates told a reporter that the announced dispatch of 1,000 Marines to the Mediterranean was "perfectly normal" and that the contingent "will merely replace those that are already there."

"We're not looking for trouble," General Cates said, "and if we did, we wouldn't be sending a scrub team to take the place of the varsity."

Admiral Halsey reminded the wildly cheering gathering that "American history is not all behind us."

"New pages," he said, "will be written this year and in the coming decade. I have no doubt that the most interesting footnotes will be written by the Marines."

The retired wartime commander of the Third and Fifth Fleets said "we must not forget that when American policy has been to guard the peace, the Marines have been just as ready, willing and able for the job.

Republicans Score Truman's Budget, Terming It Extravagent, Political; Support For Military Funds Evident

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12—(AP)—Republicans ripped into President Truman's $39,669,000,000 budget today as "extravagant" and "political" while Democrats defended it as "reasonable," considering problems at home and commitments abroad.

But even among critical Republicans there was clear indication that the president's request for $11,000,000,000 for the armed forces has widespread support.

Senator Bridges

Typical GOP comment came from Chairman Bridges (R-NH) of the senate appropriations committee who said the president had presented "an extravagant program beyond the means of the nation to meet this year."

"He has played politics in an attempt to make the budget appear as an economy measure," Bridges declared in a statement. "But no politics, however stated, can avoid the fact that he is suggesting an increase of $2,000,000,000 in federal spending at a time when the security and well-being of the nation demand reduced expenditures."

Senator Lucas

Senator Lucas of Illinois, who as the Democratic whip is an assistant floor leader, said that while he regrets "the necessity to have such a large budget" he is "encouraged to know that once again we can balance the budget and have a surplus to apply on the national debt."

Senator Connally

Senator Connally (D-Tex): "I don't see how we can avoid a heavy outlay for military and naval preparedness. The world is in a state of chaos and we can't afford to lay down our arms until we know where we are going."

PRESIDENT PROPOSES $39,668,993,000 TO HANDLE GOVERNMENT

TREMENDOUS TREASURY SURPLUSES EXPECTED LATER, TRUMAN SAYS

By CHARLES MOLONY.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—(AP)—President Truman sent congress today a record $39,668,993,000 peacetime budget providing billions for defense and for meeting the "unprecedented challenge" of totalitarianism abroad.

He forecast history-making treasury surpluses, provided congress does not cut taxes and lower the government's revenue. His figures:

For the year ending June 30, the government's income will exceed spending by $7,482 610,000—more than the United States spent in any single year during its first 146 years.

For the next 12 months of the 1949 fiscal year, $4,807,868,000, to make a two-year total of $12,290,476,000.

"Costs of War."

Mr. Truman told the hostile Republican congress that 79 percent of his spending estimates for 1949 "directly reflects costs of war, the effects of war, and our efforts to prevent a future war." He stressed these points:

1. The plain fact is that our budget must remain high until we have met our international re-

Even before the president's bulky budget message of more than 20,000 words was read by clerk's in the senate and house, it faced announced Republican efforts to (a)cut taxes, possibly by $5,600,000,000 annually, and (b) slash spending, including the $6,800,000,000 asked for the first 15 months of the European recovery

Oklahoma Negro Must Have "White" Law School Training, Court Orders

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—(AP)—The supreme court today ordered Oklahoma to provide immediately for the education of a negro who desires law school training.

The court did not specify how the state should meet its requirement. It ordered that a negro student who has applied for admission to the all-white law school of the University of Oklahoma must be given facilities equal to those provided for white persons.

The court further directed that Oklahoma must provide those facilities "as soon as it does for applicants of any other group."

The court's action was taken in an unsigned order of only five paragraphs.

In their unanimous order, the justice took no action on a request that they declare segregation of white and negro students unconstitutional.

Texas Case Pending

AUSTIN, Jan. 12.—(AP)—A pending Texas court case in which a negro is seeking admission to the University of Texas law school differs from the Oklahoma case decided in favor of the negro by the United States supreme court, the attorney general's department said today.

While Attorney General Price Daniel was in Washington, a member of his staff said that Texas has already provided separate but equivalent opportunity for the legal education of negroes, while Oklahoma apparently has not.

Pending in the third court of civil appeals here is the mandamus suit of Heman Marion Sweatt, Houston negro mail carrier, seeking to force admission as a law student in the University of Texas. A district court has denied the mandamus.

Since the Sweatt suit was filed, the Texas legislature established the Texas State University for Negroes, with a law branch at Austin.

President Urges $3,180,000 For Power Facilities

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—(AP)—President Truman, telling congress additional power transmission facilities should be constructed in the Southwestern area, today recommended a $3,180,000 appropriation for the Southwesteen Power Administration.

This compares with a total appropriation of $1,230,620 made by congress last year, which total included reappropriation of $1,105,528 in unexpended 1947 funds and a new appropriation of $125,000.

In transmitting the budget to congress, President Truman said:

Facilities Essential.

"In order to distribute hydroelectric power as it becomes available from government dams, certain extensions should be made in the Southwestern area. These facilities x x x are essential to deliver power to areas of shortage."

The recommended appropriation for SPA includes $180,000 for operation and maintenance of present power transmission facilities

Truman Calls For Larger Subsidies To Rebuild Soil

WASHINGTON Jan. 12.—(AP)—President Truman called today for a reduction in the levels at which the government supports farm prices, but recommended larger subsidies to rebuild soil worn thin by intensive wartime farming.

In his budget message to congress, the chief executive said the government policy of supporting farm prices, started on a broad scale to encourage large wartime output, should be continued beyond Dec. 31, when such authority expires for many products.

He said support levels should be reduced lest they encourage overproduction of particular commodities.

New Funds Asked.

The president asked congress to appropriate about $1,093,000,000 in new funds and borrowing authority to finance agriculture department activities. This was $70,000,000 more than congress provided this fiscal year. Actual spending for agriculture was estimated at $906,000,000.

The proposed increase in farm subsidies would not become available under 1949 crop year. Congress already has appropriated $150,000,000 for the 1948 soil program.

The president said this should be increased to $300 000 000 for the 1949 crop year "to prevent a serious reduction in the fertility of our soil."

Less Price Guarantees.

Mr. Truman predicted that the government will have to spend very little this year in carrying out price guarantees. He said prices of most commodities are expected to remain above support levels.

Commodities which may have to be supported, he said, are potatoes, eggs, wool and tobacco.

The president said government

War Dead Ship, Empty Casket Cargo Burns

BULLETIN

BOSTON, Jan. 12—(AP)—Search planes have sighted lifeboats in the area where the blazing funeral ship Joseph Connolly was abandoned by its crew early today, Coast Guard headquarters reported.

NEW YORK, Jan. 12.—(AP)—The army transport Joseph V. Connolly, which brought the first war dead back from Europe, caught fire early today and was abandoned by its crew of 45 in winds of gale force about 900 miles east of New York.

The ship was en route to Antwerp with about 5,000 empty caskets.

The coast guard said the Liberty ship Morrison B. Waite reached the Connolly's last reported position shortly after 7 a. m. (EST) (6 a. m. CST) and was searching for the Connally's life boats. Almost three hours later the coast guarrd said the Waite had not sighted either the lifeboats or any wreckage.

The New York port of embarkation said earlier no injuries or deaths were reported among the Connally's crew. The weather bureau said, however, that winds up to 40 miles an hour were reported in the area and that the area had been hit by showers.

The first call for help from the Connolly was intercepted here at about 4:30 a. m. (EST), (3:30 a. m. CST). The message said the 442-foot, 7,176 ton ship was adrift and out of control as a result of a fire which started in the engine room.

The last report from the Connolly said the fire was spreading, but the full extent of damage was not known because the ship's radio went out of commission before it was

PENAL AIMS

Citizens may well ask what is the purpose behind prison sentences. A dangerous habitual criminal is locked up as a safety measure. If his incorrigibility is questioned, this might be taken as enough reason for a prison term.

But with first offenders, particularly with youth who get into trouble because of one indiscreet exploit, society's obligation both to itself and to the condemned man only starts as the man enters confinement.

It is expensive to keep men in prison. But it is still more expensive to keep letting them in, letting them out, arresting them for new crimes, trying them again, locking them up again and letting them out ad infinitum. This is merely the state's end of this useless method. The individuals who suffer from these repeated crimes should be considered, too. They, also, have a stake in keeping criminals from crime. So do those not yet injured who will come in for trouble next time the criminal is set free.

Wise effort at rehabilitation will be found less costly from every point of view in the long run. This effort should be directed first of all to train young men so that life can have some meaning for them, so those who can hope for freedom can make their way honorably. An astonishingly high percentage of all criminals can be trained for useful work of some kind, either inside prison or outside. If they are beyond rehabilitation it makes sense to keep them in confinement. They should have living conditions of human decency, working conditions conducive of self-respect. But it does not make sense to let them loose to prey upon the rest of their fellows any more than it would to let wild wolves loose on the city streets.

THE REAL WARMAKERS

Hitler was merely an accident. Without him German rearmament and World War II would have occurred just the same. This appears from the prosecutors' files in the trial of officials of the great Krupp munitions firm.

Immediately after the treaty of Versailles the Krupps began to evade and defy the prohibition against big guns and tanks. They already foresaw a second war in which they hoped that this time Germany would be victorious. This was with the sympathy of Chancellor Joseph Wirth, who was no Nazi and who later fled to Switzerland to escape the Nazis. Hitler's rise to power came to the Krupps as wonderful luck, but even without Hitler the Germans would have embarked on another war of conquest.

Now the chief instigator of this war, the Krupp officials, have been on tral at Nuernberg. Their victims will hope that this time these warmakers will be put where the dogs won't bite.

MAKEUP OF MOBS

The headlines tell of Communist mobs and the disturbances they are creating in Rome and other large Italian cities. Members of these mobs are thought of here as disciples of Russian thought, consistent followers of Communist doctrine. John A. Thale, however, writing from Rome to the Chicago Daily News, breaks down these groups into individuals who have not thought out their actions, but merely followed any loud-voiced leader who gave them pleasant promises.

One member is a farmhand, trying to support himself and his family on $115 a year. Another is a workman, whose family shivers and soaks in a bomb-ruined house. A third is an unemployed man, of a group composed of one of 24 of the population. The Italian government is planning its reconstruction work efficiently, but modern Rome cannot be built in a day, and the people grow impatient. They are not justified in rioting and violence, but it is understandable that they can be led into such actions by leaders who promise them shortcuts and inflame them by unfair accusations against their government.

These are the methods and this is the material which make grist for the mill of Communism, and the Russian Communists will doubtless take advantage of that fact whenever they can.

THE AIMS OF WALLACE

Henry Wallace's aims of peace with Russia, prosperity for all and progress for the common man are the aims of every American. In announcing his candidacy on a third party ticket for the presidency he disavows Comumnism but says he will work with any group who want friendship, rather than war, with Russia.

If he has expressed himself rightly, it is difficult to see why he has had to create a third party. Inside either the Democratic or the Republican parties, in both of which he has had membership, he would have found the same objectives. From the time of the Yalta agreement, and before, under Roosevelt, the Republicans and Democrats alike have sought in countless ways to move the USSR to co-operation with this country. Certainly George Marshall's final fruitless effort in London was all a government could do to win friendly response from the Soviets. Does Mr. Wallace think that had he been in Marshall's place, he could have managed the Russians more successfully?

The candidacy of Henry Wallace must be rated a "political fantasy," as Senator Harley Kilgore of West Virginia called it, unless Mr. Wallace can come forth with extremely definite and specific plans for accomplishing this friendship with Russia, the peace and the prosperity he promises.

And if he possesses some secret formula for peace, is it not his duty to present it to the President a once?

NEW CAUSE FOR WORRY

Where did the meteorites come from? These fragments do not just drop out of space, but what is their source? Dr. Carl August Bauer of the University of Michigan, speaking before the American Association for the Advancement of Science, has an idea. He says that they all come from a former planet that once rotated round the sun between Mars and Jupiter. Several hundred million years ago it exploded, and the fragments that occasionally hit the earth have been raining from this planet ever since.

When all is said and done, all the known meteorites do not take up much territory. It looks as if the earth were in for a sizeable bombardment throughout the coming ages. And some of the fragments yet to hit us might be large.

This will delight the worriers union. But the rest of us will just go on doing the plowing and dishwashing and figuring the income tax just as usual. Which would you rather be, too busy to worry or too worried to work? Being busy has one advantage—it is more productive of the stuff the taxes are figured on.

have ambition;
Thats' the surest way I know to the better paid position."

Had I ever told my dad: "Overtime I'm often staying,
And for overtime the boss never seems to think of paying,"
He'd have smiled and said to me:
"Just forget what now he pays you.
You'll be paid for overtime when the day has come to raise you."

Boys are wanted still today who'll forget the quitting minute;
Who can see the post ahead and will do their best to win it,
Boys who'll do the extra bit when they know that it is needed.
They'll be paid for overtime when they're men who have succeeded.

Secretary For Combined Offices Of County Agents

Routine matters featured the regular meeting of the Navarro county commissioners court Monday morning. Claims were allowed except as noted on the docket.

The resignation of C. A. Steele of Richland, justice of the peace, Precinct 6, because of ill health, was accepted.

The appointment of a successor may be considered at the afternoon session of court, it was indicated Monday morning.

Employ Secretary

The application of F. H. Walker and Miss Eva Sue Merritt, county agent and home demonstration agent, respectively, for the employment of Mrs. Virginia A. Anthony as secretary of the combined offices, $125 per month, was approved, retroactive to January 1.

The application of L. L. Powell, county judge, for the appointment of Mrs. Joyce Johnson as secretary to the county judge and commissioners court and as county law librarian, salary $140 per month, was allowed, retroactive to Jan. 1. This application was overlooked at the January 1 session of the court.

Agents Make Reports

The December reports of the county agents and home demonstration agents, both white and negro, were received and ordered filed, while the annual reports of the negro extension agents were approved and filed.

Judge Powell reminded the members of the court that the appointment of election judges for the ensuing two years was scheduled for February 9, and asked the commissioners to have any changes desired and necessary ready to be made at that time. The terms of three members of the Navarro county hospital board expire February 1—C. O. Weaver of Dawson, Dr. O. C. Bowmer and Paul Moore, both of Corsicana.

Meet With Court

W. H. Jones, district county agent, and Mrs. Rosella Cook, district home demonstration agent, both of College Station, met with the court and thanked the commissioners for the secretary for the combined offices this year. Mrs. Cook said that she was finding considerable difficulty, however, in finding an assistant county home demonstration agent for this place due principally to the $660 county appropriation.

She said that since assistant county agents were required to provide autos for their work, their expenses were comparatively high She suggested she might be able to scure a suitable assistant if the appropriation was hiked to $1,000. Members of the court indicated they were at a loss as to where such an increase could be secured under the present budget and conditions.

profit, by speculating since the war in increased prices of food and commodities, belong in the position of assistant to the secretary of the army for procurement and industrial mobilization?"

Pauley said the profits he announced were made during the last three years.

$1-Million Profit Alleged

Stassen told the committee last week that Pauley had made almost $1,000,000 in the markets and contended the former Democratic National treasurer had not told the group of all his operations.

Pauley insisted in the telegram that he already had given the committee the information and added:

"Why not stop the pretense as well as the evasion."

Senator Thomas asknowledged over the weekend that he had dealt in commodities and other markets for years but, like Pauley, asserted he had not made use of any inside information.

Whether the committee will formally investigate Thomas' dealings, however, was left unanswered. Asked about Thomas' statement, committee Chairman Ferguson (R-Mich) told reporters:

Same Attitude

"The committee has not changed the attitude that it's always had. It will go thoroughly into the whole matter."

Thomas has not been named on any of Anderson's lists.

He volunteered the information about his market activities after a weekend tabulation included the name "Edith Thomas, Washington, D. C." Among 2,006 persons who traded in cotton futures on July 31, 1946. Her holdings were listed as 300 bales "long," that is bought with the expectation that the price would rise.

Asked whether his wife, whose name is Edith, had been in the cotton market, the senator told a reporter:

Hits Own Mony

"She has her own money and I don't know what she does with it."

Mrs. Thomas declined comment.

Later in a formal statement Thomas asserted that when he entered the senate he severed all his business connections.

Since then, he added, he has engaged in no other business "other than trying to represent the people of Oklahoma." His statement continued:

"Because of lack of time to engage in private business and in an effort to preserve my meager accumulation of funds I have invested in income properties including bonds, preferred and common stock, and commodities.

Information Not Secret

"At no time have I had any information about any securities or commodities that was not at the same time available to the public.

There is nothing illegal about commodity speculation. The current inquiry was touched off, however, by contentions of Harold E. Stassen that "government insiders" have used their official position to profit from grain and other deals.

In his telegram last night, Pauley insisted that Stassen had not made any "disclosure" about Pauley's speculative profits of almost $1,000,000. He said:

"Instead of openly admitting that it was I, not you, who had disclosed this figure and that you were simply reading from the certified figures which I had voluntarily submitted and which had been handed you for your use before and during your appearance before the commitee, you attempted to mislead the public by making it appear that you made a 'discovery' and were making a 'disclosure'."

"When you return before the commitee, if you do, I intend to prove where you falsified again and again and to expose you," Pauley concluded.

Stassen declined comment.

Pauley has asked for the right to confront Stassen at another hearing and cross-examine him. Ferguson arranged for Stassen to appear again Jan. 23, but declined to allow Pauley the right to conduct the questioning. All questions will be submitted in writing through commitee members, Ferguson ruled.

BUDGET

program sponsored by Secretary of State Marshall.

Mr. Truman declared that his 1949 budget was written by "rigid standards of operating economy" even though it exceeds by $2,000,000,000 his original request for funds for the current 1948 year.

Lower Debt Predicted.

By next June 30, the president said the public debt will be down to $250,000,000,000 compared with a wartime peak of $279,000,000,000. With government income continuing at its current rate, Mr. Truman said the debt would drop to $246,200,000,000 on June 30, 1949.

But, the president said, "prudence demands" that the United States plan its finances "in full recognition" of its international responsibilities.

After allowing for veterans benefits, interest on the public debt and tax returns, Mr. Truman said only 21 percent of the outlay would remain for social welfare and ordinary expenses.

The chief executive said income for the 1948 fiscal year, now half over, should reach $45,210,000,000, the highest for any year except the $46,467,000,000 received in wartime 1945.

$44 Million Receipts.

He estimated next year's receipts at $44,477,000,000.

The new budget is based on the assumption that congress will accept a variety of projects outlined in Mr. Truman's state of the union message.

It includes a new program of financial aid for state school systems, health insurance, extension of social security to such groups as farmers, domestics and the self-employed, long range housing aid, and expanded flood control.

He ticked off his main spending proposals for next year as follows:

National Defense—$11,000,000,000 to maintain the air force, army and navy at "current strength" and to give a $400,000,000,000 start to a proposed $2,000,000,000 a year universal military training. This is 28 percent of the total and $297,000,000 above this year.

Marshall Plan.

International Affairs—$7,000,000,000, including $4,000,000,000 for the Marshall plan. This is 18 per cent of the total, up$1500,000,000.

Veterans Programs—$6,100,000,000, 15 percent of the total, down $530,000,000.

Interest on the Public Debt—$5,250,000,000, 13.2 percent of the total, up $50,000,000.

Social Welfare, Health and Security—$2,600,000,000, 5 percent of the total, up $70,000,000. This would include increased aid to dependent children and the blind and initial administrative costs of the proposed health insurance program. The medical-care benefits would be self-financing.

Tax Refunds—$1,890,000,000, 5 percent of the total, down $59,000,000.

Resources.

National Resources — $1,600,000,000, 4.1 percent of the total, up $447,000,000. Atomic energy development would get $660,000,000, a $204,000,000 boost; flood control, $449,000,000, a $135,000,000 increase, and reclamation $268,000,000, up $85,000,000.

Transportation and Communication—$1,600,000,000, or 4.1 percent of the total, up $83,000,000. Biggest items: $478,000,000 for highways, a $72,000,000 increase; $321,000,000 to cover a deficit in postal operations, $211,000,000 for air ports, air navigation aids and research, $37,000,000 increase; $222,000,000 to the maritime commission for ship construction, a $126,000,000 decrease; $171,000,000 for rivers and harbors, $40,000,000 increase.

General Government—$1,200,000,000, 2.9 percent of the total, down $316,000,000 largely because surplus war properties selling is nearing completion.

Farming.

Agriculture—$906,600,000, 2.3 per cent of the total, up $300,000,000.

Education and Research—$387,000,000, or 1 percent of the total, up $810,000,000. This includes $290,000,000 for a new program of federal grants to states and $5,000,000 for a proposed new "national science foundation."

Finance, Commerce and Industry —$190,000,000, or 0.5 percent of the total, down $182,000,000. The total was artificially high this year because $210,000,000 in profits from war damage insurance was turned over to the treasury as an "expenditure." The proposed outlay would include $80,000,000 to administer Mr. Truman's requested compulsory anti-inflation program, if congress adopts it, compared with $20,000,000 for anti-inflation expenses this year.

Labor—$116,000,000, 0.3 percent of total, up $20,000,000.

Housing and community facilities $38,000,000, 0.1 percent of total, $75,000,000 down.

sons now living outside the state.

The decision today was based on two divorce cases but Chief Justice Griffin Smith, who wrote the 5-2 prevailing opinion, told newsmen that its effect would extend to all other acts of Chancellor Hale's court. The dissenting opinion argued only that the acts of her court should have de facto standing.

New Court Created.

Mrs. Hale had been master-in-chancery under Chancellor Frank Dodie until the 1947 legislature created a second division to his court. The law specified that Mrs. Hale would become chancellor of the new division to serve until Jan. 1, 1949, when a chancellor named at the November, 1948, general election would succeed her.

"The general assembly functioned in two respects," the court declared. "It exercised the inherent right to legislate and thon assumed the executive function of appointment—a power it did not possess."

tion is supporting an invasion of Kashmir. Debate is expected to start Thursday.

Three fourths of the 4,000,000 people in the princely state of Kashmir are Moslems but their ruler, Maharaja Sir Hari Singh, is a Hindu who has signed Kashmir to India, pending a plebiscite.

India raised only the issue of Kashmir, but Pakistan has indicated she may attempt to widen the discussions to cover the entire area of old India and the frequent Hindu-Moslem clashes over affiliation.

Other world issues looming in the background here are:

1. The Balkans: The U. N. special Balkans commission has made relatively little progress in its investigation of guerrilla fighting against the Greek government because of the refusal of Yugoslavia, Bulgaria and Albania to cooperate.

2. International forces: The security council last summer shelved the problem of establishing an international police force in the face of differences between Russia and the western powers. Renewal of discussions is expected as soon as the Indian case of off the docket.

3. Trieste governor: Italy and Yugoslavia reportedly have been unable to agree in direct negotiations over a man for the job of running the free territory of Trieste under security council guidance. The problem now is expected to be tossed back to the council, which had failed to agree on a candidate in a year of trying.

Waco Unseated As District 10-AA Basketball Champ

Corsicana is one of the four undefeated clubs in the District 10-AA Interscholastic league basketball race at the present time.

The feature of the race at the present, however, is the collapse of the monopoly held by Waco Tigers during the past decade. Waco lost the opener, 28-20, to Hillsboro and then Friday night the Temple Wildcat cagers administered a second licking to the Brazos Bengals, 30-19. Temple is generally regarded as the favorite at the present time.

Corsicana entertains their traditional foes, the Waxahachie Indians, in Corsicana Tuesday night. The Tigers won their opener with Cleburne Jackets Thursday, 36-22, at Cleburne. Waco comes to Corsicana Friday night in the second tilt of the week to the local crew.

The feature attraction of the week will be undecied Tuesday evening at Hillsboro when the Eagles and Wildcats swap punches.

Ennis Lions may prove the darkhorse of the race along with the Corsicana Tigers following their 55-30 win over Cleburne. Friday night and Ennis is host to the Waxaraachians Friday.

Murder Charge Filed Saturday Against Negro

Bo Robinson, negro tenant farmer of Frost, was named in a formal complaint for murder late Saturday afternoon following the fatal shooting of Eddie Johnson, negro, on the J. B. Strain farm one mile west of Frost Saturday about noon.

The charge was accepted by Chas. T. Banister, county attorney, following an extended investigation of the trouble by county officers. The complaint was filed before Judge W. H. Johnson, justice of the peace, who set the bond at $2,500 to await the action of the grand jury.

The defendant surrendered to Mayor Frank Johnson of Frost after the shooting scrape and later was turned over to Deputy Sheriffs Raymond Myrick and R. E. Jones who answered the call. Robinson is said to have made a statement of incidents leading up and including the trouble Saturday to the county attorney after he was brought to Corsicana Saturday afternoon.

The slain negro was reported by officers to have been struck by three .41 calibre bullets. Robinson had been picking cotton in the Frost community during the past Fall. His home was reported at Jewett, Texas.

Officers said that the accused negro was expected to be released on bail Monday.

DIZZINESS

By W. P. BROWN
Of Johnson's Pharmacy

Dizziness is a symptom of various ailments, but most of them can be traced to a tiny bodily mechanism—the labyrinth of the inner ear.

It is no larger than our smallest fingernail, yet it controls our entire sense of body balance. Any disturbance of the organ results in dizziness.

Perhaps almost everyone has experienced a sense of dizziness at one time or another. It is an indication that something is wrong and repeated attacks should be diagnosed by your doctor.

He may prescribe medication, if so you will want fresh potent drugs. Let your doctor recommend the pharmacist who can supply these.

Many Activities Of County Agent's Office Listed In Report For Last Year; Intensified Cotton Program

The 1947 annual report of the County Agent's Office has been released and shows the result of several different phases of the work.

Intensified work was carried on in cotton production in connection with the seven step cotton program. Navarro County was designated as one of twelve Texas counties for this intensified work. An educational campaign was presented with the assistance of Charles A. King, Extension Entomologist, as this was deemed the most important factor in cotton production in the county.

Hybrid Corn.

The report reveals that hybrid corn has shown up to a great advantage in yields under adverse conditions. One hundred fifty four 4-H boys carried on one acre demonstrations with hybrid corn. Reports on these demonstrations show that in every case where a comparison was available, the hybrid corn yield was larger than that of native corn grown under the same conditions.

Use of Legumes.

The use of legumes as a soil improving crop has been advocated by the County Agents' office for a number of years. Where this has been practiced, crop yields have been increased. More farmers are following this practice each year, and last fall Navarro County farmers planted the largest acreage of winter legumes ever grown here. Purchase orders for 82,117 pounds of vetch to 42 different farmers, and 252,925 pounds of Austrian winter peas to 253 farmers weer issued by the local AAA office here. At average seeding rates these 295 farmers grew 12,000 acres of these crops.

Soil Conservation.

In parts of the county outside the district conservation areas, approximately fifteen miles of terrace lines were run and terraces constructed. All of these lines were on farms where vegetative waterways or pastures were available for outlets.

A severe grasshopper infestation in many parts of the county was successfully controlled by those farmers who made use of government material furnished through c. munity mixing stations.

Approximately 13,000 acres of cotton, corn and other miscellaneous crops were baited and an additional 32,500 acres were protected from damage. Estimated crop losses of the 185 farmers participating in the program amounted to $18,000, and the total saving resulting from control operations was $57,500. A total dry weight of 10 tons of wheat bran and 30 tons of sawdust were mixed with 5600 pounds of sodium fluosilicate in preparing the poison bait.

Beef Cattle.

Most of the beef cattle and swine work was carried on with 4H club boys. Proper management, improved pastures and the use of better sires were stressed for both swine and beef cattle. Ninety boys completed demonstrations with swine and 55 were enrolled with beef calves as a project.

Eighteen home orchard management demonstrations were conducted with the boys' and girls' 4-H clubs. Selection of adapted varieties, care and management were stressed.

Pruning and Spraying.

Five demonstrations on pruning and spraying were also given. In the course of these demonstrations information on tillage practices, cover crops and cultivation were given.

Poultry work was confined to individual flock owners' of culling and management.

On carrying out this program as well as other work incidental to the program, 855 visits were made to 356 different farms. In addition there were 1760 office calls and 1220 telephone calls. 2863 bulletins on various phases of agriculture were distributed and 30 community meetings were held.

Sunday Services At First Baptist Largely Attended

Large crowds attended the services at the First Baptist church Sunday. Dr. Jared I. Cartlidge, pastor, brought both messages.

There were 686 in Sunday School and 178 in Training Union.

Special music was provided at the morning hour by the quartette composed of Mesdames C. A. Middleton, B. F. Wright, J. R. Howell and Roy Bristow.

The church supper and conference will be held Wednesday at 7 p. m. while the visitation will be held Friday at 2 p. m.

It Happened 25 Years Ago Today

King Constantine of Greece died of a cerebral hemorrhage.

French occupation troops moving into the Ruhr area occupied the town of Essen, and martial law was declared there. Meantime, Yank troops on the Rhine received their orders to evacuate and return to America.

Humphreys interests made a location near the Corsicana Deep Well's new gusher near Powell. Hundreds of sightseers still crowded the area of the well, which was one of the biggest oil developments of the day and time.

A. L. Slaughter, former Corsicana resident, was elected president of the State Bank and Trust Company, a new Dallas bank.

Rev. C. H. Storey, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church here, tendered his resignation.

J. Y. Roberts, secretary-treasurer of the Corsicana National Farm Loan Association made the announcement that there were more than 2 million dollars on the books of the organization, and no delinquents.

Criminal Docket Of County Court

Following is the setting of criminal docket, County Court, January 26, 1948:

Discuss Charity Dental Service At P&S Hospital

Discussion of the establishment of a charity dental service was held at the regular meeting of the Navarro county hospital board Sunday at the P. and S. Hospital. Definite decision will be reached next month, it was stated. Room rates were revised upward to meet increased operational costs.

Dr. Edward Willis, dentist, discussed certain phases of the dental proposition with the board, and additional information will be secured during the next month. Such a service, if provided, will be similar to the charity hospital service provided for those unable to pay.

The rates of the wards were hiked 50 cents per day from $3.50 to $4, while the rooms were hiked one dollar each—making the new schedule at $5, $6, and $7 per day. The new rates will be effective February 1, 1948, it was stated.

Receipts during December were $7,510.17, with expenses at $8,381.60.

There were 160 patients admitted in December, including 12 charity. Sixty-two received out-patient and emergency treatment and were not admitted to the hospital. There were 44 deliveries and four deaths. Fifty operations were performed. Hospital charity was reported at $387.20 while free services of physicians was valued at $375.

abandoned, the coast guard said.

In addition to the Waite, the coast guard said the army transport General Callan, carrying dependents of service men, the freighter Josephine Lykes and the coast guard cutter Tamaroa, were en route to the area of the fire.

The U. S. S. Lioba and U. S. S. Mercury also were ordered to proceed to assist and Kinderly Field, Bermuda, was reported sending two B-17 Flying Fortresses and a B-29 Superfortress to the area.

The Connolly, which was built in 1945, brought 6,248 war dead from Europe and Newfoundland to New York last Oct. 26. It sailed from New York for Antwerp Jan. 8.

The Waite, operated by U. S. lines, left Rouen, France, Dec. 31 for Hampton Roads, Va., and was due to arrive at her destination Jan. 14.

The Royal Canadian Air Force search and rescue unit said it had cancelled a flight which had been prepared to keep watch on the Connolly's lifeboats when the Waite was reported near the scene.

Canadian Public Weather Office officials said temperatures at the Connolly's reported position should be fairly moderate because it lies at the edge of the gulf stream.

FOREIGN AID

come from the 16 nations, rather than from the U. S.

One idea getting attention in the house committee is to put the program under a special eight-member board. Those backing it say it would mean a "business like" administration.

Marshall hit at that. He said a "business like" administration is important and the way to get it is to put the program under a single administrator.

Both President Truman and Secretary Marshall want a simple administrator who would be repsonsible to the secretary of state an foreign policy.

"Recovery Urged."

As he did when testifying before the senate foreign relations committee last week, Marshall urged that congress authorize a European aid program adequate to provide "genuine recovery."

He said "the time for relief programs is past," and added:

"If we do not move out to meet the problem of Europe today it will certainly come to us here in the United States under conditions far more unfavorable to us."

The administration is asking congress to authorize a four-year program of aid for Europe's economic recovery and vote $6,800,000,000 for the first 15 months of the program. The amount of later spending would be up to the congresses of the future.

Fund Cut Studied.

Some influential Republicans are talking of cutting the $6,800,000,000 figure in half.

The senate foreign relations committee fired questions at Marshall for nearly four hours after he read a 5500-word statement last week. And an even sharper cross-examination was expected today before the foreign affairs committee, over both the management issue and what Marshall described as the "precision" estimate of $6,800,000,000 needed to run the program during its first 15 months.

Rep. Vorys (R-Ohio), a member of the house group, told a reporter that while the whole issue is in the advance "talking stage," Republican leaders in the house have mentioned $3,000,000,000 as a possible substitute for Marshall's figure.

However, Rep. Judd (R-Minn), another member, declared in a separate interview that congress must be prepared to spend whatever is needed "to do the job right."

Judd compared the world situation today with the wartime battle for Europe, and declared:

"We have no right to invade Normandy unless we are willing to throw in all our reserves."

But Judd agreed with Vorys that a powerful Republican bloc on the house committee will oppose Marshall on his bid for over-all control of the recovery program.

No Confidence.

"We have no confidence in the ability of the state department to handle a job of this magnitude," Vorys said. "In writing this bill, we are going to make an attempt to preserve control of foreign policy through the President and state department, but also to get an independent business management behind them."

In this connection, a Democratic member of the senate foreign relations committee said efforts already are underway to work out a compromise on this issue. He added that state department officials are agreeable so long as Marshall's authority is preserved.

Senator Ives (R-NY) told a reporter he sees no reason why a separate organization cannot operate the program without interfering with Marshall's conduct of foreign policy.

Big Demand For Tractors Seen

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 12.—(AP)—"Implement and Tractor," farm equipment industry publication, said today in its annual forecast number that 711,000 new tractors would be required to satisfy farmers' "critical needs" in 1948.

A national survey of farm equipment dealers showed that, under normal conditions of adequate supply, 1,200,000 new tractors could be sold.

The presentation was made by W. T. Rascoe, district deputy grandmaster and degree captain.

and $3,000,000 for construction of new facilities.

The construction fund is broken down as follows:

Transmission lines and substations $1,969,400, compared with $650,000 spent in the 1948 fiscal year; feeder lines, service and miscellaneous capital additions, $336,000; plans and specifications for future program $25,000; general plant and equipment $319,000, and administration, engineering and general expense $350,000.

Private Interests Oppose.

The Southwestern Power Administration has been target of private power interests.

Presently pending in the house public works committee is a bill which would remove from the interior department and give to the war department authority to dispose of power generated at flood control dams built by army engineers.

Supported by private power interests, the bill, its sponsors say, would permit sale of power from such dams at the bus bar, or generator.

The bill is opposed byRep. Rankin (D-Miss), and others, who contend the government should construct transmission lines to the dams and dispose of the power.

Rep. Trimble (D-Ark) and some contend that if the bill is enacted it should permit the government to tie the dams together with transmission lines so that the power might be sold from these lines, rather than from the generators.

floors--minimum prices — under farm products will be needed in the future chiefly to safeguard farmers against "forced selling under unfavorable conditions and economic depression."

The present program requires supports at not less than 90 percent of parity, a level of prices declared by law to be equally fair to farmers and consumers.

Revised Parity Formula.

Mr. Truman said the present formula for determining parity prices should be revised to reflect "basic changes in price relationships and improvements in agricultural technology."

He estimated a revised parity formula and a lower level of price support would save the government $50,000,000 during the 1949 fiscal year.

Mr. Truman recommended $65,000,000 for the federal government's share of the national school lunch program, the same amount congress gave the program this year.

He recommended that funds for rural electrification be increased from this year's $225,000,000 to $300,000,000.

Dallas Firm And Local Church Are Suit Defendants

State National Bank of Corsicana, Texas, entered suit in the district court here at noon Saturday against Super-Cold Southwest Co., Dallas, et al, bill of interpleader.

Also a defendant is the first Baptist church of Corsicana.

The litigation is the outgrowth of the installation of certain air conditioning equipment at the church.

The bank is holding an escrow agreement and funds totalling $8-500 and each defendant in the new lawsuit have claimed and damended payment of the $8,500, the petition said, and a court order is sought by the bank to determine to whom payment is due.

The air conditioning firm put up $1,700 and the church deposited $6,800 in the escrow agreement last year, it was stated.

Tom L. Tyson, attorney and chairman of the board of deacons said the congregation had taken the position the equipment installed was of no value to it and had requested its removal and the payment to the church of the money in escrow.

The Emhouse Home Demonstration Club will meet at the home of Mrs. John Gillen January 20.

The amended petition claims that 1893 judgment is still in force and effect, and that questions involved on that occasion still exist with reference to certain properties.

Whether the amended petition will cause the scheduled hearing of Jan. 15 to be postponed until a later date to allow city counsel time to meet the added litigation and filings had not been indicated at noon Monday.

Only one elective office in the courthouse will not be involved in the approaching democratic primaries this summer and the general election in November.

J. C. Watson county school superintendent, was named to a four-year term two years ago and is not required to make the race this year.

J. P. Mays, judge of the Thirteenth Judicial District court, serves a four-year term, but the local district judge terms expire with those of the president of the United States—Leap Year

The remaining elective offices in the courthouse are two-year terms and those in office are required to run every two years.

Some of the officers are appointed including the county auditor, while others domiciled in the courthouse are state and federal operatives and are not involved in local political races—including the AAA, county and home demonstration agents, while the state department of public welfare personnel come under state supervision.

A number of incumbents and others seeking nomination in the democratic primaries have made their formal announcements in newspapers, while others have indicated they will announce later.

A majority of the county office incumbents will be running for re-election to a second term and a number will be unopposed.

The county judge's office is the major one not presenting an incumbent to be considered. L. L. Powell, present judge, has said he was not making the race for re-election.

Red Cross Quota For This County Not Yet Received

The national headquarters of the American Red Cross has not set the 1948 quota for the Navarro county chapter, so it is not known whether the local organization will be asked to make an increase.

An apparent general policy of the national organization to raise local budget estimates already has met with stern protest from various chapters.

The first protest was registered by the Birmingham, Ala., chapter El Paso, not far behind, arbitrarily reduced its portion.

At Fort Worth the Tarrant county chapter voiced objection to a sharp increase in quota, when they were planning on a decrease below that of 1947. At Dallas the total was expected to result in a protest.

Mrs. Mary Simpson, executive secretary here, said the budget was late in getting in the mail this year, and consequently no word has been received here as to what is expected of Corsicana and Navarro county citizens.

She said that last year the budget was assigned about Feb. 1. It approximated $11 000, she said.

When the possum was finally spotted, Jimmie Lloyd Cox proved to be the hero, climbing the tree and bringing the animal down by the tail.

Following the hunt and capture, a huge bonfire was built and Kenneth Ingram entertained the boys by telling grost stories. For refreshments weiners were roasted and served with bread, pickles etc.

Those present for this happy occasion were Don Baxter, Kennoth Kilcrease, Jimmie Cox, Kelly Don Berry, Terry Warren, Richard Baxter, Kenneth Ingram and Jerry Warren.

Capacity Crowd Attend Annual Loyalty Banquet

By TALMADGE CANANT
Sun Sports Staff.

A capacity crowd jammed the high school cafeteria here Friday night to attend the traditional 20th annual Tiger Loyalty banquet honoring the members of the Corsicana grid team, winners of the 1947 District 10-AA championship.

Coach Boyd Payne, head football coach, awarded letters to 44 members of the Tiger squad, including members of the B squad and reserves. Payne also made several special awards to team members.

Boles Featured Speaker.

Rev. J. Hoyt Boles of Denton was the featured speaker, and delivered a captivating, humorous discourse on "Perfection." Luther A. Johnson, Jr., added a bit of masterful pantomime. Special entertainment was furnished by Verdie Cook and Zelma Hanson with a number of vocal duets.

The occasion opened with the leading of all those present in singing the song, "Corsicana's Men," as the members of the grid team filed into the beautifully decorated cafeteria. Mrs. R. N. Elliott led the singing, accompanied by Randolph Mitchell at the piano.

Rev. Morris Bailey, Civitan chaplain, gave the invocation, and Joe K. Garner, president of the Civitan Club, sponsor of the event, introduced the officers of the organization.

N. Suttle Roberts then took over as toastmaster, reviewing briefly the history of the club, and introducing Verdie Cook and Zelma Hanson, who sang "Sweethearts," and "Make Believe." Mrs. Felix DeLafosse offered piano accompaniment.

Payne Caricatured.

Luther Johnson's pantomime, entitled "As I See Them," was a group of impressions, superstitions and imitations of Coach Payne, done with a clever eye for detail, and drew a thunderous round of approving applause.

Toastmaster Roberts then introduced Payne, who complimented Johnson for his performance, remarking, "I don't know where he learned all that—somcone close to me is guilty."

"I'm not superstitious," he continued, "I just know that it worries the opposition."

Payne thanked all the organizations which had a hand in supporting the Tiger team. He extended special thanks on behalf of the team, coaches, and faculty to the Civitans for the banquet, the Dad's Club for its support and help in financing the football camp, the Texas Power and Light Co. for the use of Lake Trinidad facilities, the staff of the Daily Sun for its publicity, Station KAND, and the Daiches Jewelry Co. for the football trophies.

Introduces Coaches.

The coach then introduced Line Coach Garland Matthews, and Backfield Coach Otis Pederson. He praised the work of J. H. Compton, and Bill Hay, junior high coaches, and the coaches of the ward school teams, all for their parts in the tutoring of the kids in their early years before reaching high school. He termed their work one of the main reasons for the success of the present grid team and those coming up in the future.

Payne praised the members of the squad as a "fine bunch of Christian boys," and said the district title crew was not built around any one man, but around conscientious linemen and fine backs operating together as a team.

Compliments Team Condition.

"The boys went through eleven games, and during that time the coach did not have to go on the field a time because of an injury," he pointed out in calling attention to the physical condition of the gridders. "The only serious injury occurred during practice. We attribute that record to the fact that the boys worked hard, and were in condition when the time came to play."

While not being pessimistic, Payne pointed out that the 1948 team would be hampered by the fact that no 1947 lettermen will be back and that there will no spring and that there will be no spring training, plus the fact that the eight semester rule will go into effect. "Of course, all that will affect the other teams just as much as it will us, but I think it will result in a grade of football not quite as high as heretofore," he said.

Lettermen Announced.

Payne then introduced the following A team lettermen:

Herman Barrs, Blair Beamon, Charles Bittner, Gerald Bowen, Kelly Burkhart, Max Carter, Jerry Caton, James Cavender, June Clark, Johnny Crawford, Richard Cummins, Bill Davis, Bob Douglas, Jimmy Mash, Bill McGraw, Ervin Phillips, Benny Pearch, Bill Sharpley and Keith Howlett, manager.

The following were listed as reserve lettermen on the A team:

Horace Bryson, Jackie Crook, Harold Daniels, David Gipson, John Allen Johnston, Jack Jones, David Pendleton, Wayne Phillips, Jackie Rea, Carter Bryant and James Ward.

These were awarded B team letters:

Elbert Berry, Walter Bond, Charles Bristow, Ronald Cavender, Lamar Crook, Hubert Farmer, Harvey Holms, Orville Langston, Ernest Markle, O. E. Scarbrough, Ben Sharpley, Bobby Joe Ad Capacity Crowd
Staggs, Frank Warfield and Leon Wylie.

Payne announced that Charles Bittner, Tiger tackle, was elected by ballot of his teammates for the Daiches trophy for the most outstanding linesman, and was named on the composite 10-AA all-district team selected by the Fort Worth Press.

Bill Davis, Corsicana back, won the balloting for the most outstanding back, and was also named at that position on the composite district team. Both players will be presented with the trophies on graduation.

The boys received these trophies as a result of a vote among the players themselves," Payne said. "The coaches had nothing to do with it. The fact that no less than nine different players received votes is a testimonial to the kind of a team we had."

Boles on "Perfection."

Rev. J. Hoyt Boles, in delivering the keynote address, directed his remarks to the students, and told them, "When you do any job, try to do it to perfection. When you do any job good, there is something attractive in it, not only to you, but to other people, and other people will like you forit. There is something winsome about perfection."

"When I was in school, we were 'typed' on the first day, and tabbed as an A, B or C student, and from then on, according to the current idea, there was nothing we could do about it. We were in that classification until we graduated.

"To all of you who have a subject you seem to have no liking and aptitude for, I issue a challenge. Bring up thenext five assignments perfectly, and I guarantee that you will develop a sincere liking and new interest for it."

Sounding a warning not on education, Boles said, "You young people may have been misled by the present age. You have seen th twilight of the day when a college degree alone guaranteed the holder a lucrative executive job. Every day the emphasis is more and more on what you can do and how well you can do it."

"Practice, only at your best effort, makes perfect."

Jester Wire Read.

Toastmaster Roberts read a telegram from Gov. Beauford Jester, presenting his greetings and regretting official business that kept him from attending. A similar telegram from Sadie Ransom was read.

Joe Garner, Civitan president, thanked the high school cheer leaders and the members of the Tiger band for their assistance, and the members of the high school faculty who helped in preparing the cafeteria for the occasion.

The general arrangements committee, composed of R. A. Armistead, H. C. Allen, T. C. Orr and Suttle Roberts, also drew Garner's thanks.

City Taxes Paid By Bus Company, Marble Machines

The Corsicana Transit Co., owned by S. A. Rudd, paid $65.84 into the city tax collector's office Friday, representing the two percent street rental charge.

Also paid to the city collector was $90 representing the $15 annual occupation tax per marble board. The Ratliff Music Co. paid for six.

Home Demonstration And Girls 4-H Club Work In Navarro County Last Year Reviewed; Much Accomplished

Home Demonstration and girls 4-H club work has proven very successful in 1947, says Eva Sue Merritt, county home demonstration agent. Much has been accomplished through the efforts of all women and girls. There are 19 4-H clubs in the county and 15 home demonstration clubs.

Outstanding events observed during the year were: In March the 4-H boys and girls of the county observed 4-H Mobilization Week. The week was highlighted with a county-wide meeting held in the county court room. At this time outstanding 4-H members of the county were presented awards. Ninety boys and girls attended.

District Meeting.

In April the Home Demonstration Club women were hostess to District 4 Texas Home Demonstration Association meeting. This meeting was held at the State Orphans Home. Over 400 women representing 17 counties attended. It was the largest meeting of its kind held in the state.

National Home Demonstration Week was observed in May. The various clubs set up exhibits in their local communities. To highlight this week of observance a mother-daughter tea was held at the YMCA in Corsicana. Over 150 women and girls attended this affair.

Rally Day.

In June the club women had a rally day at Lake Trinidad. George Nokes, state representative, was the principle speaker for the occasion. At noon a picnic lunch was spread, and the afternoon was spent in recreation. In July the the 4-H girls had a rally day at the city park. A county-wide style show was held in connection with this. The winner of the style show was presented a free trip to College Station to participate in the state style show. Fay Rene Robinson of Purdon was the winner.

In September three 4-H club girls and a 4-H club leader represented the county at the Texas Round Up at College Station. Also in September three Home Demonstration club women represented the county at the state meeting of the Texas Home Demonstration Association in Galveston. September was also the month of the Fair. All 15 Home Demonstration clubs set up educational exhibits at the Fair. The 4-H club girls set up a joint educational exhibit. Many articles were on display in the general entry exhibit.

Annual Council Meeting.

In October annual council meeting was held at Kinsloe House in Corsicana. At this time each club president reported accomplishments for the year. The annual Home Demonstration luncheon was held at Kinsloe House in November. Guests for the luncheon included the county judge, L. L. Powell; the commissioners and their wives and the district Home Demonstration agent.

December was the month for the Christmas party which was held at the Eleventh Avenue Methodist church for both women and girls. Over 150 attended the party. There was an exchange of gifts and refreshments were served the group.

Outstanding Programs

Some of the outstanding programs for the year with the Home Demonstration clubs were "Making Your Own Purses," "Maintaining Health in the Home and Community," "Making Lamps From Odds and Ends," "Making Serving Trays," "Making Marshmallows," and "Christmas Gift Suggestions" which included glass etching.

Demonstrations that the girls especially liked were "Personal Grooming," "Making Head Scarfs and Mittens," "Everyday Courtesies," and "Christmas Gifts That Can Be Made at Home."

Checking reports from 200 families show that 16,283 quarts of fruit were canned and 22,498 quarts of vegetables; 16,358 pounds of meat were cured and 19,578 pounds were frozen; 2,642 garments were made by the women and 384 were made by the girls; 411 garments were made over by the women and 175 by the girls.

The club women and girls are looking forward to a good year in 1948.

Cleburne Jacket Crew Unable To Cope With Locals

The Corsicana Tigers chalked up a win in their first district game of the 1948 basketball season Thursday night, winning over Cleburne by a 36-21 score, while the Tiger Cubs led the way by taking a similar victory over the Cleburne B string, 40-19.

The two victories were all the more praiseworthy because of colds that prevented at least three of the cagers from giving top-flight performances. Bill Davis and Max Carter, both ofwhom saw service in the A game, were suffering from colds, and John Custer, Cub ace, did not make the trip for the same reason.

Teams Start Slow.

The locals played fine team ball in taking the wins. In the A game, both clubs started off slow, and the score at the end of the first quarter was 5-3 in favor of Corsicana. At half-time the locals had found the range, however, and held a 19-7 advantage. From then on to the finish the Tigers were never in danger.

Leon Wylie, Tiger guard who shows improvement with each game and plenty of hustle, rang the gong for high honors with five field goals and two gratis tosses for a total of 12 points. Gerald Bowen had a good night, and trailed him closest with four goals from the field for eight points. Bill Davis, Max Carter and Jackie Crook all turned in their usual good performances. Kelly Burkhart, Corky Harkins and Ben Smith, though not high on the scoring department, showed up well.

Simmons of the Yellow Jackets was high point man for his team, getting five field goals and one gratis shot for 11 points.

Clean Game.

Coaches Pederson and Hay called both the games among the cleanest from the point of personal fouls.

The Cubs used ten men in their game with the Jacket B string. They jumped to an early lead, and held a 27-7 margin at mid-point in the game.

Charles Roy Bristow found the basket easy to hit, and connected with four goals from the court and two free tosses to tally 10 points, high total of the night for the Cubs. Jerry Caton's four field goals gave him eight points and runner-up honors.

West's 10 points gave him high honors for the Jacket B squad.

The Tigers resumed drills today in preparation for a strenuous week of competition beginning next Tuesday night. On that date they will meet the Waxahachie cagers here, and on next Friday night will be host to the Waco five, also on the local court.

Farmers Meet At Dawson; Lack Of Parity Stressed

DAWSON, Jan. 9.—(Spl.)—Lack of parity was stressed at a public meeting in the Dawson High school auditorium Thursday night, sponsored by the Navarro County Agricultural Council. Speakers on the program emphasized that farmers were paying much higher prices for products in comparison with prices they get for their own.

Dugan Davis, manager of the Co-Operative Gin at Dawson told the group that government assistance could be lessened by parity of prices and a good soil conservation program.

The meeting, attended by less than 100 persons, was the first in a series planned by the farm council.

Appearing on the program were Ralph Evans, council chairman; William Moore, Dawson High school vocational agriculture instructor; Commissioner Fred Copeland, who also cited the need for parity; County Agent W. H. Walker, who explained the government's long-range farm program; Cline Young, Triple A secretary; Jack Everhart of the Soil Conservation Service; J. R. Hart, National Farm Loan Administration; Glen Atkins, Production Credit Administration; Harrison Fendley, Farm Home Administration; W. L. Homan, vice president of the State National Bank, Corsicana, and O. Cauble, of the RFA.

Penny Lots Of Trouble To City

A penny is a very unimprotant thing, or a very important thing, depending, of course, upon the point of view.

At the city hall Saturday there was penny trouble.

From J. Preston Welch's office—he's the city secretary—there went a check for .44 cents to pay a bill against the city.

The firm receiving the check sent it back. It, the officials pointed out, should have been .45 cents.

The question arose whether to destroy the check, write another, and mail it, or just attach a penny and send it via foot. The latter course was chosen as the cheaper.

Of course there was the added cost of the paper clip—clipping the penney to the original check.
